

WELCOME

On behalf of the Washington Bikes board of directors and staff, welcome to the 23rd annual Gala Auction. Tonight we're celebrating those Everyday Superheroes who work in their secret identities to make bicycling better and we're celebrating an amazing year for bicycling in Washington.

Much of the work that leads to better bicycling is invisible. Serving on a Bicycle Advisory Board or as a bike club officer doesn't make the headlines. A comprehensive plan update or bike master plan doesn't hit the bestseller list. Convincing a jurisdiction just to add the idea of a trail to a project list can take months-years-of effort. Literally hundreds of decisions stand between where we are and where we want to be on any change to streets or policies.

And yet that work goes on, day after day, and we make progress. More miles of bike lanes and trails. More safety improvements around schools. More towns adopting Complete Streets or Vision Zero or slower speed limits in neighborhoods. More people getting involved to make a difference in their hometowns. More people riding bikes more often to more places.

At Washington Bikes we have had the privilege of working with many of these Everyday Superheroes over the years, building the local base that supports our successes in the state capital.

Those efforts all add up to make Washington the #1 Bicycle Friendly State in America for the eighth year in a row. That's because when you think you're riding alone, you're really riding with a whole group of Everyday Superheroes. No Spandex required, no capes – just a laser-vision focus on the future, the super strength to keep working, and the ability to leap roads that need traffic calming in a single bound.

Your support tonight and throughout the year gives us the superpowers we need to keep pedaling into the future. Thanks for being here tonight, and remember, when you bid generously to support statewide bike advocacy you're an Everyday Superhero too.

Thanks,

A SPECIAL APPEAL

Tonight, celebrate the Everyday Superheroes who make bicycling better and help us ensure that more and more of Washington bikes! And help us honor the memory of one of the original Bicycling Superheroes in the Pacific Northwest, the Jerry Baker.

Jerry helped found our organization along with many others. He brought people together and inspired them, knowing that when people who love bicycling connect they make super things happen. Some of what we've accomplished and where we're going thanks to the vision of our Superhero founders and supporters over the years, and you tonight:

Legislative wins: We built broad bipartisan support in the legislature that resulted in historic levels of state investment in biking and walking projects. Over half a billion dollars will be invested as a result of our efforts this year, on top of the $100+ million we landed in past years.

Safe, active kids: We keep expanding our bike/walk safety education. In the next two years we will add up to 17 more school districts to earlier participants and nearly 20,000 students each year will be learning to walk and roll for healthy, active transportation and fun family expeditions.

Connections for better bicycling: We presented the first statewide conference focused 100% on bicycling. The Washington Bike Summit brought together nearly 200 advocates for bicycling and safe streets and professionals in planning, design, engineering, health, education, business, and tourism to connect and learn. They said they can't wait for the next one.

There's so much more we can do together. Tonight we are asking you to support a future in which Everyday Superheroes make Washington an even better place to ride a bike.

Raise your bid card high if you believe that the brightest future for all of us is the one with SUPER BICYCLING FOR ALL!

Heads? ...or tails?

For a $10 donation, you can play Heads or Tails at the beginning of the live auction. All participants will receive a Superhero mask to wear for this game. Standing, participants must choose heads or tails (hands on head or bottom).

Auctioneer flips a coin and those who picked correctly remain standing. After a series of coin flips, the last person standing wins a great prize!

DESSERT --- DASH ---

Bid forms are on the table. Get together with your tablemates and discuss your strategy for a top bid.

Each guest includes bid number and amount they personally want to bid, then the total bids from the table are added together. Volunteers will collect the Dessert Dash bid forms just before the start of the live auction.

The Dessert Dash will be conducted at the conclusion of the special appeal. The top bidding table wins first choice of desserts from the fabulous array of delicious treats we've assembled.

Second highest earns second choice and so on. There's great honor and prestige being first table, so bid high and help support better bicycling in Washington!

OUR AUCTIONEER

Fundraising Auctioneer Nelson Jay is a graduate of the Missouri Auction School and the University of Washington. He is a member of the National Auctioneers Association (NAA) and holds the Benefit Auctioneer Specialist designation from the NAA.

Nelson is an avid cyclist and has had the opportunity to ride in several states including Arizona, California, Colorado, Oregon, Massachusetts, and internationally in Canada, Scandinavia, France and Japan. He was a charter member of Team Thumbprint, a local amateur race team and USA Cycling's 2009 New Club of the Year. He is a current member of Team R4C, a Seattle-based cycling club that raises funds for causes and cure research by riding four to six century rides each year.

"I believe cycling is a great metaphor for both life and fundraising – be prepared, stick together, help each other, work hard, keep moving, and be prepared to suffer a bit – the outcome makes it all the more worthwhile," says auctioneer Nelson Jay.

Mr. Jay helps non-profits, foundations, trade associations, schools and a wide array of charitable organizations raise money with humor, style and witty repartee.

Nelson lives in NE Seattle with his wife Tiffany and three children. Away from the auction block, you can find Nelson somewhere in the outdoors with his family – cycling, skiing, hiking, traveling or tending the backyard hens.

JIM SAYER SAYS, The US Bicycle Route System relies on the work of state partners to identify the best routes and build critical support from local elected officials and transportation agencies. WA Bikes makes that happen very effectively and has raised the profile of bike tourism as economic development not just regionally, but nationally. — Jim Sayer, Executive Director, Adventure Cycling Association.

DID YOU KNOW... WA Bikes served as the first nonprofit "home" for groups like Friends of the Burke-Gilman Trail, Edmonds Bicycle Advisory Group, Spokane Bikes, and others.

ERIC GIACCHINO SAYS, WA Bikes partners with organizations like ours and works tirelessly for state policies that make our roads safer for kids and families. I appreciate their support to regional efforts. Without the help from WA Bikes, I doubt we would have been able to generate the attention from policy makers or the resources necessary to make our Safe Routes to School programs successful. — Eric Giacchino, President, Bike Clark County
