BICYCLE ALLIANCE OF WASHINGTON ADVOCATES FOR BICYCLISTS AND A BALANCED TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM THAT PROMOTES LIVABLE COMMUNITIES.

Whether you ride with your kids to the park, pedal to work, or ride for recreation on the bicycle trails — all bicycling is local and all routes need advocates. Bicycle Alliance of Washington is a powerful voice with state and local officials — from Olympia to communities large and small around the state.

Founded in 1987, the Bicycle Alliance represents the collective voice of thousands of cyclists, bicycle clubs and civic organizations all across Washington. Our members are passionate about bicycling and want to see its rightful place in a balanced transportation system.

Join today in making Washington a better place to ride a bicycle.

Complimentary photos from members Gordon Black, Arnold Chin, Mark Davison, Brian Foley, Susan Hiles, Kent Peterson and Willie Weir.

THE BICYCLE ALLIANCE ADVOCATES, EDUCATES AND COMMUNICATES ON BEHALF OF BICYCLISTS:

- We educate local and state officials on the importance of bicycle-friendly communities and cycling as a viable transportation option.
- Our representatives serve on statewide and regional committees that help write laws, increase funding for bicycle projects and develop safe cycling routes and trails.
- We work closely with elected officials, transportation planners, health educators and other organizations to develop model bicycle plans.
- We partner with law enforcement, schools, bike clubs and others to promote bicycle safety and a Share the Road philosophy.
- We develop and distribute newsletters, Action Alerts and other information throughout the state.
- We manage bicycling workshops, conferences and other special events.
- We participate in the Alliance for Biking and Walking, a national coalition of bicycle and pedestrian advocacy organizations.
- We are a founding member of the Washington State Center for Safe Routes to Schools, an organization that collaborates with schools to encourage students to walk or ride to school.

WASHINGTON'S LARGEST NETWORK OF BICYCLE ADVOCATES

OUR VISION — that every child and adult can ride or walk to school, work and play along safe routes; that all families have access to trails close to their home; and that bicycling is a key component of a sustainable transportation system.

Join us — we are a membership organization that derives its success from our individual and affiliate members. Lend your voice to bicycling advocacy by joining Bicycle Alliance of Washington
